On the Case for Better Measures of Human Flourishing in the Age of AI

Compiled May 2026. Organized by topic rather than by section so the structure of the underlying literature is visible.

1. The philosophy of metrics: Goodhart, Campbell, Porter, Muller

Campbell, D. T. (1979). "Assessing the impact of planned social change." Evaluation and Program Planning, 2(1), 67-90. The source of Campbell's law.

Goodhart, C. A. E. (1975). "Problems of monetary management: The U.K. experience." Papers in Monetary Economics, Reserve Bank of Australia. The original formulation later restated by Marilyn Strathern as "when a measure becomes a target, it ceases to be a good measure."

Manheim, D., and Garrabrant, S. (2018). "Categorizing Variants of Goodhart's Law." arXiv preprint 1803.04585. Revised February 2019. <https://arxiv.org/abs/1803.04585>

Muller, J. Z. (2018). The Tyranny of Metrics. Princeton University Press.

Porter, T. M. (1995). Trust in Numbers: The Pursuit of Objectivity in Science and Public Life. Princeton University Press.

2. National accounts, GDP, and welfare frameworks beyond GDP

Kuznets, S. (1934). National Income, 1929-1932. 73rd US Congress, 2nd Session, Senate Document No. 124. The report containing the warning that "the welfare of a nation can scarcely be inferred from a measurement of national income." Jan Hatzius is Goldman's chief economist and oversees the series, but the named authors on the report itself are Briggs and Kodnani.

Acemoglu, D. (2025). "The simple macroeconomics of AI." Economic Policy, 40(121), 13-58.
<https://doi.org/10.1093/epolic/eiae042>. NBER Working Paper version: w32487 (May 2024), <https://www.nber.org/papers/w32487>. The original draft dated this to May 2024; that is the working paper date, with the journal publication appearing January 2025.

Acemoglu, D., and Restrepo, P. (2018). "The Race between Man and Machine: Implications of Technology for Growth, Factor Shares, and Employment." American Economic Review, 108(6), 1488-1542. The foundational task-based-framework paper.

Acemoglu, D., and Restrepo, P. (2022). "Tasks, Automation, and the Rise in U.S. Wage Inequality." Econometrica, 90(5), 1973-2016.

Stanford Digital Economy Lab Working Paper, August 2025. <https://digitaleconomy.stanford.edu/publications/canaries-in-the-coal-mine/>. Note: the original draft listed November 2025 for this paper. The initial Stanford Digital Economy Lab posting is August 2025; an October 2025 draft was presented at AAAS; the paper has continued to circulate through late 2025. November 2025 is plausibly when the version cited was read, but the canonical date is August 2025.

Anthropic (2026). Anthropic Economic Index report, January 2026: "Economic primitives." Covers Claude usage data from November 2025.
<https://www.anthropic.com/research/anthropic-economic-index-january-2026-report>. This is Anthropic's fourth Economic Index report and the source of the "49 percent of jobs" figure.

Anthropic (2026). Anthropic Economic Index report, March 2026: "Learning curves." Covers Claude usage data from February 2026.

<https://www.anthropic.com/research/economic-index-march-2026-report>. The original draft conflated this report and the January 2026 one. The "data through February 2026" language refers to this March report; the "fourth report" descriptor refers to the January one. Worth disambiguating before submission.

Humlum, A., and Vestergaard, E. (2025). "Large Language Models, Small Labor Market Effects." NBER Working Paper No. 33777, April 2025.
